Hi, Tom, how are you? I'm great.

I want to invite you to my house to study together before exam. Let's go to my home together after school.

And I invite you because I don't know Math very well, but you can help me with this problem! I think you are not busy on Thursday, because I'm not busy on Thursday too.

Why don't we play computer games after studying? We can drink tea after studying too!

Write back soon, Leva.

Nowadays, the question of the happiest time of a person's life causes great argument and controversy.

Some people believe that childhood is the happiest time of a person's life, while others think that other periods of a person's life can be happier than childhood.

Where is the truth?

In my opinion childhood is the happiest period of a person's life.

Firstly, in childhood you can spend much time with your relatives, friends and cousins.

Secondly, in childhood you don't think about your future goals.

However, there exists another point of view.

The main thing to be considered is that in other periods of life you can be more independent.

Despite my respect for this opinion, I cannot share it.

In conclusion, I would like to say that, for me, childhood is the most cheerful time of person's life.

Writing.

I'm disagree with this statement.

I think, that the most happiest time of a person's life is the teen age. Because, when you a child you can't do many cool things. For example, you can't walk ~~in~~ ^{at} eleventh o'clock at night and make a party with friends.

So, I think, when you're a child you always be protect^{ed} by your parents; you always have, what to eat or wear. When you're a child you can manipulate people and get what you want. Especially, when you grown up you have more deals, but and ambitions for your future life too.

Of course it's hard to be adult and many of them want to be a child again. It's pity that time is so fast.

So, I think, that all time of person's life are happiest in their different!

Thank you for following my opinion.

"Childhood is the happiest time of a person's life".

Everybody was a child. I can not disagree with this statement. Because when you are a child you should not worry about the future and the only problem you have is what toy to take for playing in the kindergarden. When you are young you have many friends and happy days. Everybody seems to be good and everything seems to be nice. You have many friends to spend your time with. ~~But when you are getting older, you realize that there are~~ You are very curious and want to become adult as soon as you can. But when you are getting older, you realize that there are problems ~~and so there are~~ you have to solve and there are rights and dreams you have.

You have less and less free time and now you can not spend it playing with toys or watching cartoons. You have to get education and get a good job.

Conclusion.

It goes without saying that travelling is an integral part of our lives. Every person has ever traveled in his life, it could be a trip abroad or to a nearby city. People travel to different places and with different purposes. According to statistics, modern tourists do not leave their resorts, but fifty years ago the situation was different. What has changed over this time?

In my opinion the attitude of people to travels has changed. Travel has become more affordable, now you can fly abroad for a relatively small amount of money. I think that's why people stopped appreciating the moments. The next reason is human laziness and the appearance of the Internet. We and our contemporaries do not need to go around the globe to find out any information, because we can learn about everything on the Internet. Our problem is that we get knowledge too easily and we do not remember it.

As far as I know people, who lived in the 1970s liked travelling as a mean to get some information about the world around them. Therefore, people tried to see and learn more about other countries' culture, traditions and customs.

To conclude I can say that above mentioned attitude to travelling was good enough for people of the 1970s but not for our contemporaries. These people took the most from the moment, they were interested in gaining knowledge. Unfortunately, now people do not consider spiritual enrichment and self-improvement as interesting activities.

Long time ago many people didn't have enough money to get on a journey, so they stayed at home and spent time with their families. 1. 2. 3. 4.

There are a plenty of mass media advertisements that are arranged by different agencies. Some people are interested in cheap, but comfortable journey. On the other hand, agencies prepare all accommodations from leaving home until getting back after holiday. Today people prefer taking relaxation in the best resorts and all resorts facilities. Agencies organise sightseeing tours around cities, accompanied with a tour guide. As a result, tourists do not have any chance for getting in touch with local people and activities by themselves.

In the past, travelers got information from their friends or books. Unfortunately, there were no guides and tourism agencies, so people explored the new place by their own.

In conclusion, today the improvement of tourism provides the journey for everyone. Nevertheless, it is not good for active rest, because agencies prepare all accommodations and people do not have to explore the new place by themselves. In my opinion, people should be interested in learning something new and unknown.

An international travel magazine describes that nowadays go to holiday in some places staying there. But it is different with tourists in the past, ²⁴ they will not stay in same place for long time.

One of the main reasons "Why they return home without experience of the local culture" is a life style. Many people know that now people lead a very strengthened lifestyle. Compared to the past people work much more. That's why, when they come to a country, people prefer to stay in a hotel. They just want to relax. These conditions do not give opportunity to people to visit any places and learning the local culture. To my opinion, another condition it is variety of hotels. Now in any hotel you can find everything from the restaurant to the shopping centre. Therefore, sometimes people have a question: "Why should I go somewhere, when I can just walk around the hotel and see everything?"

I believe in the past people were ~~also~~ more reckless and they just packed their bag and started new adventure. They used hitchhike on their way through to destination, used their ~~trust~~ and ^{friendship}.

In conclusion, there are many reasons for why tourists do not explore local places in holiday. I have nothing against this, but to my mind people must ~~to~~ travel, training their language skills and at least something learn.

Modern life is impossible without travelling. People travel to see new places and learn new things for themselves. Unfortunately at the moment people almost do not beyond the territory of the hotel. Although in the 1960s - 70s people preferred active recreation.

They put up tents and inspected many local attractions. Why is it not so now? I think that now with the advent of the Internet in our lives it has become much easier for us to search for any information about different attractions of the world. Now on the Internet you can find a million photos of various world sights and reviews of people who have already visited there, and people who do not have their opinion rely on these reviews and if more bad comments than good, people will not go in this place. As an active rest is more expensive than passive and many people who have a desire to active holidays so just do not have enough money for it. Nowadays people are very busy at work and when they take a vacation they would like to relax, just lying on the beach and take diving in the sea but do not going sight seeing.

In my mind people should have their own opinion and not always rely on reviews on the Internet. So people should try different kinds of rest, but the main thing is to get pleasure from the travel and only positive emotions.

A lot of people in our days fly to their holiday resort compare to the people from the past generation. People have an active life style. Nowadays most people are very busy with their works, but they find time to travel and relax. People in past often used a hitchhike. They have a little experience how to travel.

Nowadays many people do not return at home after the trip. I think that people realize that there is no point to come back. In this country is better than at home. Perhaps many people find themselves in this country. In past years, it was not as popular as it is today.

There are many doubts about passive and active tourism. Passive tourism is popular nowadays than the active one. Many people prefer to stay in the hotel and not leave it. I disagree with it. It is not interesting to sit in the hotel and do nothing. I have been traveling all my life and prefer an active rest. Never be discouraged and spend your holidays with benefit for yourself. Active rest supports general health.

All in all, I believe that active tourism will become popular. Because for someone we have many opportunities. Live for yourself. It will improve your life. Life and travel improves your mood and prolongs your life.

The best way to change your environment, have rest, broaden¹⁰ your views at life, learn about other cultures is tourism.¹⁰ Unfortunately, according to an international magazine, many tourists nowadays fly²⁰ straight to their holiday resort, almost never leave it, return⁴⁰ home with no experience of local culture. ⁵⁰

I think, the reasons of the problem are changes in our lifestyle, views at⁶⁰ rest. We're living in a world, where people are²⁰ busy and always tired, because of having lots of work⁸⁰ and not being able to relax, always thinking about work⁹⁰ having stress, so they're aren't interested in learning something new¹⁰⁰ about local cultures.

People in the past also had much¹¹⁰ work, but didn't have so much responsibility, that we have¹²⁰ today, so they were interested not only in lying on¹³⁰ the beach all day long, but were curious about how others live. Also, they hadn't much information about other cultures¹⁴⁰ and could only experience it in reality. Otherwise, today people have¹⁶⁰ an ability to get all information in a couple of clicks, not "wasting" their time on traveling and making friends.¹⁸⁰

For example, ~~was~~ being in Thailand I met few tourists, invited¹⁹⁰ them to visit a local palace. They refused, because it²⁰⁰ was long and they could Google about it, so they preferred staying in an hotel.

I think it's important to travel²²⁰, not only staying in hotels²²⁶ because it will make you a better person^{with wide} and^{outlook} fulfill your life with new unforgettable experience.

Writing.

According to an scientific reseach, many tourists today fly straight to their holiday resort and almost never leave it. Unlike tourists in the 1960's and 1970's they return home with no experience of the local culture. And yes, I agree with it.

I think one of the reasons is the system "all-inclusive", which is very popular in the modern hotels. It means that you pay certain amount of money for the room in that hotel, where you live, for meals and drinks at any time you want, for animation, children clubs, swimming pools and many other entertainments.

The other reason that we are generation, which are always on the move and in the self-progress and many people become very tired of the tempo of their life. That's why they prefer maximal relaxation to new information and experience of the local culture.

It also happens, because in the past people could only read about the foreign countries, but nowadays due to inventions like computer, TV and many others we can see all of it without leaving home.

But why do the tourists in the 1960's and 1970's return home with experience of the local culture? In my opinion the main reason is that in the past there were not so many hotels, excursions, travel agencies and, by the way, in some countries, like USSR, people couldn't afford themselves to go abroad because of "cold war". So any trip was unbelievable for them, and they tried to learn about local colour as much as they could.

There is a point of view that unlike tourists in the 1960s and '70s, modern tourists return home with no experience of the local culture. 02

As I think, it happens because of modern hotels or holiday resorts have all conditions to live. For example, Wi-Fi, conditioners, beach or pool on hotels territory. That's why people don't want to leave their holiday resorts. I have a friend who thinks that this is normal. He even don't like sight-seeing because he think it pointless. He tells, that he can ~~watch~~ see all this views in internet. 03

Also, people who goes on vacation are usually have a job. They just want to rest from their daily routine. That's why my mom prefer to visit exotic countries. 04

Tourism was different in the past and there's one main reason why. It was no internet. People just ~~didn't~~ ^{didn't} ~~had~~ an opportunity to see ~~all~~ pictures ~~or~~ from different world's places like our generation. 05

In conclusion, not all ~~people~~ modern people like big part of tourists. There's people who still like to getting acquainted with the country they are traveling. They are ~~meeting~~ ^{meeting} new people, taking photos, and getting a lot of bright memories, wich is can't complain with just photos from internet. Anyway, everyone decide how to spend their vacation by yourself. 06

Writing: Tourism is very developed nowadays, people have a lot of opportunity's to spend their holiday-time interesting and exiding, but why, then so many tourists don't like to learn country, where they are resting, out of their hotel's doors? The first reason, I think, is that people just want to relax after many months of hard work, they have no need to meet the world outdoors, no need to get new experiences. I can't say, that I agree with them, but I also may understand this point of view, but personally, I don't fancy such kind of time-spending on holiday. And the another reason may be progressive changes in life of modern society in case of comparing with life, was more than fifty years ago, when hippy culture was very popular. These people wanted to meet new beautys of nature in another countrys, which they were visited, to learn new for them culture and strange customs of different folks. Unfortunately, ~~in modern days~~ in modern days, people lost their adventure, travelling spirit. The logic is like: "If I want to see the Coliseum - I'll ~~look~~ find it's pictures in the Net". I suppose it is happening due to fast progress of computers and internet connection. Life changes - people change too. It feels like in near future, we will stop travelling at all. So, losing people's interest to learn new things during ^{led} their journeys is one of the actual problems of humanity. (221)

Essay.

The industry of tourism have changed a lot for the past sixty-seventy years. Now the tourists doesn't go to the town and doesn't have much information about the culture of the country, in which they spend their holiday time.

You can be agree and can not be agree with this point of vision. The world of information become quite open. You do not have to across all around the world to get the knowledges about any country. You can just find it in internet in two clicks. Our parents and grand-parents didn't have this possibility. They needed to go in the main town and speak with locals.

At the same time, now more people doesn't work at hard jobs. At our time more people gains more money and has more free time to travel to where they want. With popularization of social medias and social networks you can see more beautiful places that was unknown earlier; the magnificent nature of Iceland, for example.

For me, travels in city is more interesting than the popular holiday resorts. I don't like to lay down on the beach and to do nothing else. There is more beautiful places on Earth that you can't find in internet of some where else.

Essay

Nowadays, people usually go to their tourist destination by a direct flight and stay in modern hotels. This way they have no chance to see local culture compare with the past. That's why holidaymakers come back to their cities without any experience of the local culture.

In the past most of tourists found to their destination by their motorbikes, cars or trains. They themselves could explore the place culture. Sometimes they could stay at home of local people.

These days people prefer to get by airplanes. Tourist like to stay in their luxury hotel, where have a good service. Therefore, they felt very comfortable and convenient. They are safer, every one don't like leave it.

This a difference between tourist past and today. Past tourists, after finish their trip could tell many colorful stories. But today they return home no experience of the local people.

In my opinion, past tourism was more interesting. Because they have opportunity to talk with local people, especially by food which never have at restaurant, know the local culture.

The problem of tourists, which never leaves their resorts and hotels is ~~very~~ rather relevant now. I've never understood such people, but I will try to understand this problem.

Now I think, the first reason of this problem is money. Many tourists ~~can't~~ can't afford to spend so much money for different excursions and expeditions. They just rent a hotel with pools, beaches and restaurants, and live there for all the holiday, because it is cheaper.

The second reason is the hotels. Nowadays in resorts there are so many different services and facilities, that it's enough for tourists to relax and get ~~good~~ a good impression. ~~But~~

But, how I already ~~say~~ said, I have never understood those people. I was in many countries, and saw a lot, because I have never stayed in my hotel for whole holidays.

I think this problem will exist very long time. Because of hotels and resorts.

Have you ever been in foreign countries? If you said "yes" you must remember the people who didn't even left their hotels. Let's talk about the reasons of their behavior.

The main role in this situation plays the different looks on the life, creed or even ways to hand the spark. For the huge amount of travellers, the local culture is alien. They can't understand it. The economical level of life is main too. When the tourist goes out of his five-star hotel and see the poor people with hungry eyes, who staring on him, he will quickly return to his room.

Many tourists in these days flight straight to their holiday resort compare to the previous generation. But lately, almost people have opportunities to get long journey for holiday.

There are a plenty nice tourism place advertisements on mass media and internet that are arranged by tourism agency. Some busy people get interesting on cheap tourism packages that offer comfortable journey. On the other sides, the agencies prepare all of traveler accommodations. Start from leave home until get back after holiday. Today people have only short break time, so they spent in wisely without much more hard activities. People prefer take relaxation in the best resort, and use all resort facilities.

Travel agencies also organize sightseeing look around tourism place accompanied by tour guides. As a result
