Writing

Educational system has always played an important role in lives of the young generation. Nowadays you can choose the way of studying that is the most suitable for you. Studying at home is one of them. 36

Firstly, I'd like to tell about the disadvantages of having a parent as a teacher. Although this parent may be an educated teacher, as usual he is not, so that the average level of knowledge given to a kid at home would be lower than the average level of knowledge of a <sup>ordinary</sup> basic pupil. 32

Secondly, I'd like to show the importance of socializing. A child studying at home has rather less opportunities to make friends: there is no constant society, where the kid is able to communicate with the children of the same age. Additionally, in the future the teenager with low ~~skills~~ social skills would easily find mates and become a full part of society. 155

Finally, I'd like to talk about the advantages of this way of getting education. The school day is a pretty long period, so that the pupils studying at home definitely have much free time than the average school students. 195

In conclusion I'd like to say that each system of education has both advantages and disadvantages. Every person has his own views and he should choose the way of getting knowledge that is comfortable for himself. (241)

There is some parents believe that home education is better than school. Is that a truth or not?

First of all, school it is a place, where children can learn some communication between each other and not only subjects like math, PE and etc.. It is a well known fact that at home you will learn less than at school. Your child may remember something from your lessons but chances are low. In your house you have TVs, computers, toys, maybe even game console like Xbox, for example. This brown goods will distract even the most concentrated child from work.

Secondly, every man must have the place, where he or she can escape from job and problems. Mostly <sup>100</sup> it is their own houses. Your flat or house protects you from <sup>ones</sup> outer world as a fortress until next day of work. And for child place for rest and workplace are the same thing. It is going to be their own house. This is not so good for them and their minds especially <sup>155</sup>.

On the other hand, someone might say that they can control their child progress in education. ~~Go~~ They might be right in some point, but you can ask your child's teachers <sup>185</sup>. They are masters of teaching kids so let them do their job. Parents cannot <sup>200</sup> teach as good as a man who works with many different kids every day.

There is another opinion, that <sup>who?</sup> they can protect their children from annoying marks. And they make a <sup>250</sup> very good point. Marks at school can make your kid disappointed or even aggressive, But it depends on child. Marks were invented for parents to have control from both sides of educational process. Parents that teach their kids at home because of this problems will solve them with help of teachers as it must be. And having a bad marks is normal for everyone.

In conclusion I want to say that you should leave teaching for professionals. And in my opinion, studying at home is a bad thing for everybody. ] <sup>extra words</sup>

In this essay I want to discuss a question about children education. Is it good for them to study at home or they better go to usual school?

At home you don't have teachers only your parents who take this role and I don't think that this is a benefit for kid as a pupil. At first, not many parents know every school subject really good and not plenty of them are able to clearly explain some hard to understand information to young mind. Secondary, it can be a problem for family budget because one of the parents must leave their ~~work~~ career to spend time with kid.

Second problem is that at school kids make many friends and this is the important part of socialising. Children who studies at home only have the opportunity to make friends with neighbors and good luck for them to find same-aged kid.

However, what are the benefits of this type of education? Is there any? I made up with one. While studying at home you can pay more attention for subjects you really want to dive in. But at school you have to be on every lesson you've been told to even if it's not your cup of tea.

In conclusion I can only say that it should be a free choice for everyone and my choice is good old school.

I think having a parent as a teacher is a bad idea. If they are not working as a teacher, they can't give their child good education. Children almost all the time spend at home, so they can't talk or play with other kids. In the future, it can be a big trouble for child's mental health, because they will not know how to talk with other people and they will think that they are "special", in the bad meaning.

What about me, I have friends in the internet and in real life, and it is great. But children, whose parents decided to teach them at home like I said before, almost all the time at home. Yes, they still can make friends when they are at home. But it will be virtual friends, not real one. And it is sad.

School exist not only for education. In this place kids learning how to make friends, enemies, how to express their feelings. In school children meet their first love and first broke up. Almost all childhood kids spend in school. And parents, who prefer teach their children at home rather spending them to school, take away that childhood. It is not right.

Some parents teach their children at home rather than sending them to school.
Is this a good or bad thing for the children?

Nowadays a lot of children go to school. But some of them learn something new at home. Their parents teach them. In my opinion, this form of education is more bad <sup>thing</sup> for the children than good. But let's look at two points of view.

Firstly, I guess, parents can be a great teacher for their kids. They can help with homework, give valuable life lessons or just control their children's studying. But not all of parents can afford it. Some of them just don't know how to teach the children right. In my opinion, parents, who teach their kids themselves, have to be patient and calm, because teaching children is hard and long process. Also, children can feel themselves better, because parents aren't so strict like some teachers are. But at the same time, kids can become lazy. So, I think, this form of education is more disadvantage than advantage.

On the other hand, <sup>I guess</sup> when you are at home, you don't have many friends, because at school you find your best friends, learn how to behave yourself in society, do mistakes, which can help you find out how this world works, get different emotions and helpful social skills. So, I think that school is important thing for your social life. And it's an advantage of school form of education.

Generally, in my opinion, parents should decide how to teach their children by themselves. Sending at school or teaching them at home - it's their choice.

Nowdays, some parents prefer to teach children on their own. They consider that they can give them better education than at school. But is it a good idea to teach a child at home?

In my opinion, having a parent as a teacher is a great thing only if your parent is a real teacher. In fact, parents can't give an excellent education to a child. Only at school where professional teachers work children receive high-quality knowledge. Parents should only control their kids and help them learn. Besides, a child receives the necessary skills and qualities at school. He learns basic subjects and ~~teach~~ learns to communicate in society. He makes new acquaintances and finds new friends. Actually, friends can always help with homework or explain something. It can get boring at home. But you will always have fun with your friends at school. Another advantage of the school is discipline. Children are very lazy, so even a little control and discipline help them learn better. However, parents usually go to work leave for work and return late. Also, they have a lot of problems and cases and they can't spend enough teaching the child.

Summoring up the above, we can conclude that school plays a huge role in the learning and socialization of the child. Moreover, teachers at school provide the necessary knowledge, so it is parents can't replace school teachers. Therefore, teaching a child on their own outside of school is a bad idea.

Hello, my friends! Today I'm telling you about one person, who got off his train, but got a wonderful suitcase.

Let's start with it...

One day our main hero - Tom. He stood at crowded station. That day was sunny, nearby was calm as usually.

Suddenly the call rang and people came to the train.

Unfortunatly, Tom forgot about his trip at all, he just relaxed opposite that station and was looking at Birds.

As soon as the person understood, that he got off the train, Tom ran to the left it. So it was late. ~~Tom~~ For my information this situation happend at ~~English~~ Star Street.

Tom was upset. Suddenly he found a front of him a suitcase. It was surprised for him. That case was brown, old and large. Tom felt like to take it, but it was very heavy. When the person opened that amazing suitcase, he saw a lot of sweets. It was so pleasant surprise!

So, have you ever seen something like that, my friends?

I guess, Tom is so lucky. Don't forget, I always look forward your interesting stories! Good wishes, my friends, bye!

Tom got off the train and as the train left, he realised he was holding the wrong suitcase.<sup>118</sup>

Tom was shocked because he left without his clothes and money. They were in his big grey suitcase. Tom was staying at the train station. It was small but crowded. Tom arrived to Manchester from London because he was a Manchester United fan. He wanted to watch the football match of this team.<sup>119</sup>

Tom asked a man about this suitcase. The man asked Tom will go to "Lost and Found" office. In this office Tom left his phone number and his address: 68 WOP, 10, Oxford Street, London to office worker.<sup>107</sup>

In two days, a stranger called him and told to take his suitcase back. Tom was very surprised because his big grey suitcase <sup>came</sup> back so quickly.<sup>132</sup>
